An emerging entrepreneurial paradise

Puerto Rico's unique combination of start-up incubators, incentives, shared co-working spaces, and vibrant quality of life, has made it a global hub for entrepreneurs. All U.S. citizens can work remotely on the Island's beaches for as long as they want – no need for work visas or waivers.

The Island's recent crises have created a new generation of entrepreneurs that are resilient, tech-savvy, and globally minded. Along with newcomers to the Island attracted by incentives and quality of life, a start-up ecosystem has evolved around co-working spaces, accelerators, and other initiatives that support entrepreneurs, many led by the government-backed Puerto Rico Science, Technology, & Research Trust (PRSTRT).

This is a tropical paradise with abundant resources to stay ever connected to global business partners. With public Wi-Fi in Old San Juan, 5G rolled out across the Island, and shared workspaces that encourage productivity, creativity, and growth, Puerto Rico is the perfect place to start your business. With competitive incentives geared toward service exporters and individual investors, Puerto Rico combines a business-friendly landscape with a high quality of place and a low cost of living.
